RAID ON WESTERLY BOTTLERS

Unusual Quantity of Liquors Found at Silver Springs and New England Bottling Works—Honors for Local Harvard Student—Mechanic Savings Bank to Pay Ten Per Cent. Dividends—Fraternal Societies' Annual Elections.

The large quantities of confiscated intoxicating liquors, mostly beer, the accumulation of several raids made by the police officers, and which have taxed the cell room of the police station, were legally destroyed Friday night, the limit for making claim of appeal on account of ownership having expired. The liquors were carried to Vincent land and from there poured into the Pawtucket river, the glass and earthen vessels went the same course, but the empty beer vessels were taken to the yard in the police station to be disposed of later. It has been the custom to pour confiscated liquors into the gutters of Cookey Hill, but the quantity was so much larger than usual that the river was the place selected for final disposition.

Within eighteen hours after these liquors were taken from the police station for destruction a much larger amount was substituted as the result of two raids made on bottling establishments Saturday morning, one haul said to be the largest ever made in the temperance town of Westerly; a large two horse team being required to convey the seized goods to the police station. Police Sergeant Thomas E. Brown, heading the raiding party, composed of Policemen Lamphere of the Watch Hill section and Constable Albert Young, went to Varietyville, served a search warrant on James Lawton of the Silver Springs Bottling company, and seized six half barrels of ale, eleven kegs of ale, fourteen crates of 336 bottles of ale, one four gallon jug of whiskey, two two gallon jugs of gin and one two gallon jug of rum. A copy of the receipt for the government retail tax was made which showed that it was issued to James and R. W. Lawton, father and son.

While this searching party was at work Chief Brandfield, accompanied by Policemen West and Constables Reardon and Greene, visited the premises of the New England Bottling Works, in Canal street, Charles D. Haver, proprietor. Here the officers seized two kegs of ale, one keg of porter, and one beer keg recently emptied; also four cases of one hundred bottles of ale and a two gallon jug of rum.

Chief Brandfield says that if such large hauls continue it will be necessary to have a storehouse for the seized liquors, as the present police station is inadequate.

Academic distinctions won at Harvard university during 1908-1909 were awarded Friday evening by Dean Byron S. Harburt in Sanders' theater. President Lowell making the principal address. The distinctions awarded include prizes for dissertations in English and Latin, rank in first and second groups of scholarship and detours. Samuel Hazard Cross, son of the late Charles H. Cross, for many years town clerk of Westerly, was among the honorees. He was awarded the Jeremy Balknap prize, a detour in class of 1912, and was a prize winner of scholarship in the first group.

Mrs. Hannah Watson, one of the oldest residents of Wakefield, died Friday night in her 88th year. She was the widow of Henry Watson, and is survived by two sons, George Henry and John Edwin, and two daughters, Mary Frances and Josephine. She was aunt to Arthur M. Weedon, assistant janitor of the Westerly public library and has other relatives in Westerly.

At the annual meeting of Misquamicut tribe, Independent Order of Red Men, these officers, nominated at a previous meeting, were elected: John M. O'Connell, sachem; Charles R. Johnson, prophet; William Young, senior sagamore; Albert G. Martin, junior sagamore; Louis H. Edly, chief of records; James W. Burke, collector of wampum; William A. Wilcox, keeper of wampum.

The members of Franklin and Pawcatuck lodges of Masons attended a special service in Calvary Baptist church Sunday evening. Rev. F. C. A. Jones, pastor of the church, preached a special sermon on the theme, The Actual and the Ideal Man.

Officers for the ensuing year for the Caledonian society of Westerly have been elected as follows: Joseph Taylor, chief; John Aitken, first chieftain; William Rae, second chieftain; David Robertson, third chieftain; William Davidson, fourth chieftain; Maxwell G. Thom, standard bearer; Samuel Roan, flag bearer; Joseph Taylor, Maxwell G. Thom, George Kemp, William Rae, David Robertson, board of directors. The officers were installed by Past Chief James McKenzie, Jr.

The Young Men's Musical society of Westerly in annual meeting Saturday night elected these officers: Shirley Gray, president; George Loomis, vice president; Joseph Brucker, treasurer; Louis Cella, Jr., secretary; George Murphy, deputy; Neil McKenzie, George Murphy, Albert Chesebro, Arthur Fraser and Charles Silven, amusement committee.

Mrs. Jennie Senior was elected president of White Heather lodge, No. 2, Daughters of Caledonia, at the annual meeting. The other officers elected are: Kate Robertson, vice president; Miss Margaret Grant, secretary; Mrs. A. I. Patterson, treasurer; Miss Katherine Burnie, guard; Mrs. Belle Rice, usher; Miss Katherine Burnie, pianist; Mrs. James Benzie, Mrs. George Kemp, Mrs. Samuel Roan, trustees; Mrs. James Benzie, Mrs. Albert Senior, Mrs. Harry Pellet, auditors; Mrs. A. I. Patterson, Mrs. William Craig, Mrs. William Craig, sick visiting committee; Mrs. James Benzie, Mrs. George Kemp, Mrs. George Kemp, Mrs. William Craig, Mrs. David Robertson, social committee.

The Mechanics Savings bank, formerly located in the store in the Dixon house block, now occupied by the Rhode Island drug store, has been in course of liquidation for several years. The office in the Barber Memorial building, and dividends have been occasionally paid to depositors. Before the close of the present week another dividend of 10 per cent. will be paid to depositors, making a total of 70 per cent. paid since the bank was closed. The affairs of the defunct bank are being judiciously administered and the depositors will probably be eventually paid in full.

Local Laconics.

Stephen Brown of Boston is the guest of Councilman William Culley, in George street.

Mrs. Mabel Higgins-Mattingsly, who has been seriously ill at her home in Washington, D. C., is making gradual improvement.

A patent has been granted to Arthur M. Cottrell, assignor to C. B. Cottrell & Sons' company, on an ink fountain for printing presses.

Mrs. Adella Bassett, recently operated upon at the Rhode Island hospital, has returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Champness, at White Rock.

Bowlers representing the Norwich letter carriers will play a return match game with the Westerly letter carrier bowlers in Westerly this (Monday) evening.

Senator Wetmore has introduced a bill to increase to $24 a month the pension of Henry E. Weeks of Wakefield, who served in Company G, Eighth Connecticut volunteers.

Thomas F. Foran, son and two daughters, and Mrs. Arthur Keefe and son, Arthur, and daughter, Gretta, of New London, were visitors to Westerly Sunday in Mr. Foran's automobile.

Special trains are to be run on the New Haven road Tuesday and Wednesday evenings between Westerly and Kingston, to accommodate shoppers. The trains will stop at Natick, Wood River Junction, Carolina, Shannock and Kenyon.

Ties for a Toboggan Cap.
The small boy or girl who has graduated from a baby's cap or bonnet to a toboggan cap or cap seems possessed with a desire to remove the head covering. That this operation may be a trifle less easy, it is well to tie the cap on. Bonnet strings may be pinned at either side, much as they are on the bonnet. If something a little heavier and, at the same time darker, is wanted, a Windsor tie will answer admirably. A tie is long enough to make a pair of strings. Cut the tie in half, hemming the ends at once, so they will not unravel.

Where He Votes.
Ramesses, the mummy, is now in Boston, and soon will go to New York. He will not be permitted to vote, however, until he reaches Philadelphia.—Washington Herald.

The Dance.
Zelaya will soon be dancing the "Spanish Fandango" to the tune of "Yankee Doodle"—Atlanta Georgian.

"I think," he said, "I have at last found the key to success." "Well," his wife replied, "if you are going to tumble around with it as you generally do with your night key there will be a long wait before you get it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Winsted.—Eight new members have been admitted by the Winsted aerie of Eagles.

Meriden.—The charter list of the new camp of the Woodmen of the World has increased to sixty.

New Haven.—The Yale Glee club will make the long western and southern trip during vacation.

Naugatuck.—A petition has been circulated for a freemen's meeting to appropriate $23,000 for the erection of a new firehouse.

Watertown.—Miss Helen Stearns, teacher in the Baldwin school, has resigned and will teach in the West Hartford high school.

Ridgefield.—Former Governor Phineas C. Lounsbury and Mrs. Lounsbury have gone to their New York city home, where they will spend the winter.

Cos Cob.—Work has been in progress tearing down what is known as the old Broughton house, one of the old landmarks. It was built in 1790 by Daniel Broughton.

Danbury.—It is stated that N. Burton Rogers of Danbury is a candidate for the republican nomination for comptroller of the state to succeed Comptroller Bradstreet.

Stamford.—State Commissioner Macdonald recently signified his willingness to use what money the state has at its disposal to brick pave the Boston post road from Cos Cob to the Stamford line, two and a half miles.

Waterbury.—Creditors with claims amounting to nearly $10,000 against E. P. Oakes and A. G. Herrington attached the Hotel Marlboro and the smoke shop in Waterbury, both conducted by the firm of Oakes & Herrington.

Bridgeport.—Mrs. Charles H. Wood, widow of a former prominent carriage manufacturer of this city, recently returned from Europe, bringing back dutiable articles so that the government required a payment of $10,500 in duties and penalties.

Hartford.—Harry A. Norton, mailing clerk at the postoffice, has been left a substantial legacy by the widow of an officer whose life he was instrumental in saving at the risk of his own in an engagement during the Boxer rebellion in China. The amount of the legacy has been variously reported as $55,000 and $165,000.

RECORD DOUGHNUT MAKER.

Maine Woman of Celebrity Gives Recipe for Batter and Frying.

Mrs. Lizzie Tarr of Brunswick, noted as a good buttermaker, has gained a new fame. In thirty-two days recently she cooked more than 5,200 doughnuts. She also fed and cared for fifteen children and did the housework for herself and husband. Her best receipt is for molasses doughnuts. It follows:

A cupful of sour milk, one-half cup New Orleans molasses, one even teaspoonful of ginger, one teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of soda, one egg, about four cups of flour and a dash of nutmeg.

"The frying is the most important," she says. "Fry your lard with a small piece of the dough, and you must not get the lard too hot, or they will brown on the outside before they have fully cooked through. When you have put them in the fat they will sink to the bottom, and the lard must be hot enough so they will rise quickly to the top. If you can get the real, old New Orleans molasses, it will give a wonderfully rich, light color to the doughnuts."—New York World.

The Problem of Back Taxes.

The collector who used to go about the streets of a Berkshire county town shouting "why don't you pay your taxes?" to all who had not made themselves square on his books, made himself unpopular, but kept the town accounts of Lee peculiarly up to date. That was years ago, and it is a question whether the people of any town would stand for such methods of collection now. The majority of the citizens of Watertown, in special town meeting assembled, however, have voted that the names of all persons who are back with their taxes for any part of the time since 1862 shall be made public by publication in a town newspaper. There was special cause for this drastic attempt to shame the delinquents into payments, as about $75,000 of outstanding taxes appear on the Watertown books. When it appears how this Watertown scheme works other towns may get into action along similar lines.—Worcester Gazette.

Fascinating Candlesticks.

Never have the candlesticks shown in the shops been more attractive than this season; indeed, some of the new ones in copper are positively bewitching. Of course, to have the gift quite complete, the candle should be provided with a shade. The copper shades, pierced and lined with a color, are something new.

For the first time since the German empire was founded, in 1871, the number of emigrants fell last year, below 20,000.
